

A message from Deb Neal:

A round the coast of Britain run organised purely through the runners world forum on the internet, started on May 9th from Blackpool, has been through Scotland and is currently in Northumbria. "Barry the Baton" is due to arrive in our area in mid August. Currently there's only me and one other person on the Tyneham - Weymouth section and no-one on the Weymouh to West Bay section. These sections can be run in short legs of a mile or two or as mega long stretches - no limit on the number of runners on each leg. The most on any leg so far is 18 - I reckon Yeovil as a club should be able to beat that. How's about we volunteer mob-handed to cover the Tyneham to West Bay sections?

THIS RUN IS LIKELY TO BE ON SUNDAY 16TH AUGUST

If anyone is interested see www.coastersgb.co.uk , click on the link to the Portsmouth to Plymouth stretch and contact the stretch coordinator - simple as that.

(I am also doing the Linton to Minehead stretch - the Seaview 17 course in reality - a few weeks later - and would welcome some company on that)
